

Could you help us with photos?

We're always on the lookout for photos for our website, Twitter, bulletins and reports.

If you've photos that you'd like to share with us, we'd love you to by emailing them to admin@ercs.scot along with your name, details of where taken and any proposed titles or captions. If there are people in any photo, please confirm that you've their consent to share the photo with us.

We don't have a budget to pay for photos but, if we use any photo shared with us, we'll credit and thank you for allowing us to use your photo.

What we're looking for

Positive images / our vision met!

Our vision is of a Scotland where every person's right to live in a healthy environment is fully realised.

Images that show this happening in both urban and rural settings - of beautiful greenspaces, nature, wildlife, sustainable green infrastructure that meets our vision.

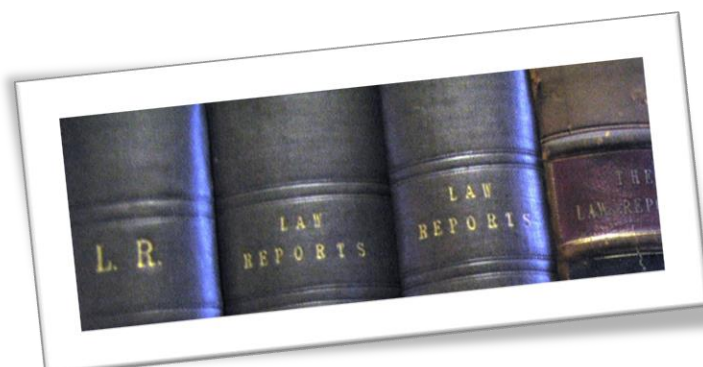

Negative images / why we exist!

Images that show our vision not being met. Of pollution, environmental problems, inequalities.

Images showing Scottish courts, the Scottish Parliament, representing environmental law, human rights

Format

We're particularly looking for images:

Format	For
1920 x 1080 pixels	Webpage header images
Min 720 x 405 pixels with the subject centred and only a third of the height of the full picture	Webpage feature images
1500 x 500 pixels	Twitter header image
1280 x 720 pixels	YouTube thumbnails
Any	For use within website and Twitter posts, bulletins, briefings, reports.

Image credits (top to bottom, left to right)

- Deer, © Graham Hamilton.
- Strathspey, Cairngorms National Park, © Badenoch and Strathspey Conservation Group.
- A beautiful warning? Arran from Culzean Castle, © Ruth Thomas. The unusual and beautiful sea colour is caused by growth of coccolithophores, a microscopic marine algae, which marine biologists say reflects soaring CO2 levels.
- "Grangemouth - I love the smell of burning petrochemicals in the morning" by Graham Maclean licensed under CC BY 2.0.
- "The Scottish Parliament" by Bernt Rostad is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution 2.0 Generic license
- "Books in the Signet Library" by johnbanchory is licensed under CC BY-NC-SA 2.0.